CRANBROOK (CP)—Three persons were fatally injured and a fourth seriously hurt in the head-on collision of two small cars at the junction of Highways 3 and 95, three miles northeast of this East Kootenay centre Thursday night.

Killed in the crash was Gary Ermacora, 25, a passenger in his car. Robert Jean Barmatyn, 19, and an occupant of the second car, Robert Franklin Jacques, 19, died in hospital early today.

In hospital in serious condition is Roland Portman, 19, who was an occupant of the second car.

All the victims are from Kimberley.

Four Slain With Shotgun

WINNIPEG (CP)—Four persons, all struck by shotgun blasts were found dead Friday at a home in Winnipeg's north end.

Deputy police chief Jack Webster described the multiple shooting as a triple murder and a suicide.

The dead are two children and their mother and father. Their identity was not released.

A neighbor, Mrs. Frank Urso, called police.

Mrs. Urso said she was disturbed by what she thought were snowballs being tossed against her home. She went to her glass-enclosed porch to look and saw to objects, one had died in the snow and the other on the front steps.

Initial reports said they were the children. Two other bodies were found inside.

Police were on the scene within minutes after they were called. They sealed off the street, denying entry to all persons who did not have official business in the immediate area.

Recovery Soon For Thunderball

River Rises At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP)—Thousands of sandbags were still being filled in Greater Winnipeg today as the Red River rose to flood level in Winnipeg.

The Red which shires through Winnipeg on its northward course from Minnesota to Lake Winnipeg, is still frozen with no immediate sign of a break-up.

The weather has been mild in southern Manitoba for the past week and if it continues, large water is expected to hit Emerson March 28.

Earth-moving equipment was expected to resume operation today in St. Boniface, on the east bank of the Red opposite Winnipeg and in St. Norbert on the southern outskirts and beyond the primary dike system.

All primary dikes have been ordered raised to 30 feet if possible. They now range from that height down to 20 1/2 feet. Flood forecast remains at 28 feet, about 2 1/2 feet lower than 16 years ago.

The suburban community of Fort Garry, inundated in 1950, prepared to raise about eight miles of dikes with bulldozed earth or sandbags.

Premier Duff Roblin said work will start during the week-end.

Two Major British Parties Both Turn Upon Liberals

LONDON (AP)—Leaders of Britain's two main parties dropped their election feuding Thursday night to join in denouncing the minority Liberals for suggesting the pound sterling be devalued.

Iain Macleod, Conservative spokesman on financial affairs, called the Liberal suggestion irresponsible. James Callaghan, chancellor of the exchequer on the Labor government, took a similar line.

Liberal Leader Jo Grimond said Tuesday in Scotland that if British prices rose much faster than those in other countries, a "controlled devaluation" might be better than sustaining the pound against pressure in exchange markets.

Other Liberal spokesmen have taken up the theme. Market men say this was an influence in the pound's slight fall against the dollar Wednesday. In Thursday's dealings it held steady.

Macleod, appearing with Callaghan in a television debate, nodded agreement when the treasury chief said New York markets had taken Grimond seriously. Callaghan added: "Americans and everyone else must understand that the Liberals have no prospect of winning this election, and therefore any prospect of devaluing the pound is out."

Space Pair Rest In Hawaii As Cause Of Tumbling Sought

HONOLULU (AP)—Astronauts Neil Armstrong and David Scott rested in Hawaii today as U.S. scientists probed why Gemini 8 gyrated wildly in space, forcing the flight to be cut short.

The astronauts, returning to Cape Kennedy, Fla. by jet plane, paused in Honolulu briefly after a flight from Okinawa.

Scientists centred their attention on what happened when a radio command was sent to turn on a tape recorder in the Agena satellite to which Gemini 8 was docked.

While docked, Gemini 8 started tumbling crazily and the U.S. man-in-space program.

Armstrong, the command pilot had to fight for control. After successfully backing away from Agena and the splashdown, the astronauts were plucked from the Pacific by a destroyer and taken to Okinawa. They were pronounced in excellent shape. Their only problem was some seasickness while the capsule bobbed around for nearly three hours, waiting for the destroyer.

Armstrong and Scott are due to return to Cape Kennedy Saturday for three days of extensive flight debriefings that may shed some light on the trouble that caused the first emergency landing in the U.S. man-in-space program.

Parachute-Shrouded Bomb Photographed On Sea Floor

PALOMARES BEACH, Spain (AP)—U.S. Navy experts at dawn today began the delicate job of raising a lost American H-bomb from the Mediterranean floor after a midget submarine's pictures indicated it had been found.

The two-man sub Alvin Wednesday photographed what official sources said was "undoubtedly" the bomb five miles off the southern coast of Spain and 2,500 feet below the surface. It was partly shrouded in a grey parachute.

Using the sub's mechanical arms, the Alvin's crew was expected to try to attach cables to the bomb so the crane aboard the LSD (landing ship dock) Fort Snelling could lift it slowly to the surface.

Officials said it might take as much as three days to bring the device up from the depths.

Reliable sources said the bomb lay on the slope of a 70-foot hillock exposed to strong currents which some feared could sweep it into a new location.

LOST IN CRASH The nuclear weapon, missing since the crash of a B-52 bomber on the Spanish coast two months ago was reported apparently intact—indicating no lethal radioactive leakage in the water.

It is quite possible that the Soviet government has succeeded in recovering the lost nuclear bomb. But the haste with which it was announced that the bomb presents no danger is suspicious.

Viet Cong Mine Kills 15 Farmers

SAIGON (Reuters)—Fifteen South Vietnamese farmers were killed and four injured when a Viet Cong mine exploded on a road 240 miles northeast of Saigon today.

Some of the farmers were travelling in a small scooter bus and others on bicycles.

The incident took place just a few miles from where 54 farmers were killed in similar acts of guerrilla terrorism last month.

The farmers were refugees from a Viet Cong-controlled area where U.S. troops have been trying to protect harvesters.

A South Vietnamese infantry company Thursday night ambushed a Viet Cong unit of similar size about 15 miles north of Hue and reported killing 51. The government troops suffered only light casualties.

Further north, guerrillas lobbed 30 rounds of mortar shells into a government outpost a few miles from the demilitarized zone dividing North and South Viet Nam but caused only minor damage.

In the garrison city of Da Nang, a terrorist on a bicycle threw a hand grenade into a navy billeting area Thursday night, wounding two civilians.

Suharto Unsheaths Steel To Keep Jakarta Quiet

JAKARTA (Reuters)—The army took a tough grip on Indonesia today, placing 15 ministers in protective custody and pointing the guns of armored cars and tanks at President Suharto's palace.

In an announcement broadcast by Jakarta radio, the army chief, Lt. Gen. Suharto, said the ministers—including Foreign Minister Subandrio—were being protected against unbridled actions of certain groups of people.

The general said he was making the announcement on behalf of President Sukarno.

(Diplomatic sources in Singapore said Suharto actually had assumed full control in Jakarta, the Indonesian capital.)

Subandrio and other ministers have been the targets of recent mass demonstrations by students accusing them of being the tools of Communist Chinese policies.

Most communications between Jakarta and the outside world were cut off as the long-smoldering crisis in Southeast Asia's biggest nation came to the boil again.

STORMED BY STUDENTS Paratroopers guarded the presidential palace which in recent weeks has been stormed by student demonstrators protesting at cabinet changes which they claimed were restoring Communist influence to the government.

Observers abroad are convinced that Suharto now is only a figurehead chief of state but that the army wants to give him the semblance of power because he is still adored by the Indonesian masses.

HELP OUT

Mr. Gail said the community must provide financial aid for the local industrial development commission; have a climate for development of industry in the form of industrial parks and other things and should form a regional association to promote the region as a whole. "This makes financing available on a larger scale," he said, "and it is easier for the government to deal with one large group than with many smaller ones."

Promote Out In The Open Chamber Meeting Advised

The best way to "advertise" for an industrial area is not to spend money on advertising, but to send several energetic men to Eastern Canada to talk to industry men. Peter MacDougall, deputy director of the federal department of industry, said Thursday he has heard a lot about advertising, but the idea of sending men east was the only really effective way.

Sickness On The Hill: Don't Let It Spread

Is Parliament's sickness contagious? One would think so, judging by the revolving performance in the B.C. Legislative Assembly Wednesday. During the debate on labor department estimates, a wild shouting match broke out. Premier Bennett was called arrogant and ruthless. Opposition Leader Strachan was called an anarchist and at one point, Education Minister Peterson was told to "shut up".

Mr. Peterson replied he was "fed up" with Mr. Strachan's behaviour. So are we, but not only with Mr. Strachan.

It is precisely this sort of thing that causes a situation such as witnessed on Parliament Hill in recent days—and now is precisely the time to nip it off.

One reason this country is able to survive such spectacles as the Munsinger-Carlin-Spencer business, is that at least the provincial governments are able to get on with their jobs, not only in B.C., but in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba as well. To be sure, there is inter-party debate, for that is the way it should be in a democracy; but it has usually been debate for the common good. To deteriorate to the level of our federal lawmakers at this time, when the country more than ever needs somebody, somewhere, with strength of purpose, would be almost too much to bear.

The rules of Parliament, which hold true for provincial as well as federal legislators, were arrived at after hundreds of years. Principles were fought for. Men died to uphold them.

If this crippling illness is to spread, cancer-like from Ottawa, eastward and westward, we can expect no more respect for lawmakers than is usually accorded performers in a huge, noisy circus.

An eastern newspaper, commenting on the Munsinger affair, suggested editorially recently that control of the nation should be wrested from Parliament and placed in the hands of a commission, at least until the elected members learn to behave themselves.

We thought that was a bit harsh at the time.

Now we are not so sure.

Don't Fool With Weather

We hope the Vernon Chamber of Commerce has learned a lesson from the publicity stemming from the recent weatherman fiasco. The chamber last month wrote the department of transport, complaining that high-and-low temperatures for the Vernon district were read in the wrong places. The weather recorder, the chamber whined, should have moved to a lower altitude, nearer the moderating influence of Okanagan Lake.

In this way, it was suggested, Vernon wouldn't look so bad by comparison to Kelowna and Penticton when the daily highs and lows were reported on Okanagan television.

More tourists would come to Vernon, the chamber said, if the weather looked better—and never mind if the farmers were misled during critical frost-warning periods.

The weatherman, bless his soul, has resigned, telling the citizens of the area to find another boy, that he for one was not going to fool with his beloved statistics.

But the story got out. Now wire services have inflated readers all across Canada with its ludicrous detail and Len Norris has drawn a highly amusing cartoon on the subject. In B.C. the Vernon Chamber of Commerce is a laughing-stock—and its reputation is spreading.

There is a lesson here for all Valley chambers or any other group which would place a what-good-for-the-Valley philosophy ahead of public responsibility. Such a philosophy, while it may win a few friends in the tourist industry, leaves a bad taste in the mouths of the general public, and, in parts, forever, a less-than-honest flavor to chamber dealings with those living outside the Okanagan.

This sort of thing has happened before. In Penticton last summer, a petty group of motel operators attempted to have weather readings given out over the local radio station only when they were attractive, and to ignore mention of cloudy or cool days. The radio station, owned by Penticton's mayor, and employing active chamber and Jaycee members, refused the ridiculous request.

In the past individuals in Kelowna have expressed similar suppressionist views, but to the credit of the chamber of commerce and other official bodies, requests to "cover up" have been given short shift. There have been exceptions, but for the most part the officials concerned have realized where their responsibilities lay and acted accordingly.

So join the rest laughing at Vernon's backfire. But don't let it happen here.

Too Many Birthdays?

The Calgary Herald

One of the more distinctive characteristics of British Columbia is its narcissistic complex. It is always looking at itself admiringly in the mirror. It is always celebrating something. A few years ago it staged a much-publicized "bond-fire" which supposedly signified that it had freed itself of debt, apparently a highly debatable proposition. Not long before that, it celebrated the hundredth anniversary of its founding as a Crown colony. This year it is celebrating the hundredth anniversary of the union of the Crown colonies of the mainland and Vancouver Island. Two hundred bonfires ushered in this special occasion last Friday evening.

Presumably next year, B.C. will join the other provinces of Canada in celebration of Canada's hundredth anniversary, although it wasn't until 1871 that B.C. joined Confederation, so maybe it will wait until 1971 before putting on a really big show to mark the event.

Each year, of course, marks another anniversary of the accession to power of Premier W. A. C. Bennett, surely a worthwhile reason for putting on a show. There are all sorts of other occasions deserving memorialization as well — the Peace River power project, the Columbia River project, to name only two.

With all that power to draw upon, indeed, B.C. ought soon to be in a position to emulate those Californians who leave their outdoor Christmas lights up all year round. To heck with bonfires.

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

Canada Has Big Surplus In Trading With Red Bloc

WASHINGTON (CP)—United States State department figures credit Canada with the biggest surplus in the free world in trading with the Communist bloc.

In 1964, latest figures available to the U.S., Canada is listed as leading the non-Communist nations in exports—chiefly wheat and flour—to the Soviet Union. These are given as $292,300,000 in American funds against Canadian imports that year from the Soviet Union of only $2,600,000.

In Communist bloc sales as a whole, Canada's totalled $549,000,000 for a trade surplus of $355,000,000. West Germany sold $796,000,000 worth—but bought a lot too and wound up with a trade surplus of only $276,000,000.

The U.S. figures say that non-Communist nations sold the Communist bloc $6,662,300,000 worth of goods in 1964, a nominal amount as world trade figures go but still an increase of 19.1 per cent.

LARGE GAINS

At the same time, the Communists sold the free world $6,779,000,000 worth of goods for a trade surplus of nearly $100,000,000. This represented a gain of nine per cent. China's gain in both imports and exports was the biggest.

In fact, with continuing Chinese grain needs from Canada, Australia and elsewhere, and other dealings, reliable estimates for 1965 are that China now does 65 per cent of her foreign trade with non-Communist nations despite the continued U.S. embargo on dealings with her.

China's two-way trade is believed to have increased by 22 per cent in each of the last two years. Japan and West Germany are the chief suppliers despite Canada's grain deliveries.

Japan also has ousted the U.S.S.R. as the main source of Chinese imports although, while the Sino-Soviet split is waged in bitter ideological terms, China is buying increasing amounts from the Soviet Union, it is believed.

China is believed to have had total trade last year of nearly $1,000,000,000, exporting more than $2,000,000,000 worth to all countries. This is about 25 per cent of Canadian exports.

China imported last year about $1,750,000,000 worth of items.

One example of how China maintains a trade surplus is by buying Canadian wheat and other wheat and selling rice, which brings a comparatively higher price.

Still No Answer To Eagle Mystery

VANCOUVER (CP)—David Hancock, 27, has chased eagles with a single-engine aircraft, but he still doesn't know where they go when they migrate.

However, he thinks he can answer an important question—the reason for the dwindling bald eagle population in the United States.

It's a direct result of pollution of the Great Lakes, says the bearded University of British Columbia student.

The giant birds are scavengers, living on fish carcasses and other animals washed ashore, says Thain. Consequently, they now consume large quantities of poisonous chemicals.

Men are the bald eagle's direct enemies as well, when armed with a hunting rifle or bow. The eagles' thin bodies, a distorted neck, and a long, hooked beak, leaving the fledglings to starve. The bald eagle is the United States' national bird, but the largest colony numbers only 250, in Florida. By contrast, one of Thain's favorite observation areas, Barkley Sound on Vancouver Island, has 170 nests. He thinks there are about 40,000 in British Columbia and the Yukon.

OTTAWA REPORT

Finance Minister Faces Gethsemane

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Mitchell Sharp is now deeply involved in every finance minister's annual Gethsemane. He is preparing his budget of federal taxes for the fiscal year starting on April 1.

Mitch Sharp has asked Canadians to send his suggestions. "Ottawa Report" is pleased to help him, with a very simple but constructive suggestion: "Go West, Mr. Sharp," visit western Canada to learn how provincial Finance Ministers there can cut taxes while increasing welfare benefits.

Specifically Mr. Sharp should meet his fellow-Liberal in Saskatchewan. That sounds funny, but there are some Liberals left among the Tory whoatheads of the Prairies. In addition to former Liberal provincial leader Hamie McDonald and former New Democratic national leader Hazen Argue, who are now of course both sitting in the Senate as Liberals. Mitch Sharp should talk to Ross Thatcher, Liberal Premier of Saskatchewan, who was of course formerly a CCF MP. Ross is a big man with a big mind and broad shoulders; he moonlights in the role of Provincial Treasurer, which is another name for Finance Minister.

PLEASE CUT TAXES

Mr. Sharp should sit at his feet and learn how—despite record government spending one-fifth higher than last year—he can still reduce the provincial income tax surcharge from 6 to 5 per cent. Ross will also meet head-on the inequity and anxiety of levying tax on tax; he will offset the burden of paying federal income tax on the amount of municipal property tax by paying to every home-owner a grant of $50, or half his property tax, whichever is less.

Then Mr. Sharp should go further west to our booming and most favored province—"Beautiful British Columbia." It is called on its car license plates. There too he will find a hard-working premier handling also the Finance portfolio.

Social Credit Premier W. A. C. Bennett, wearing his other hat as Minister of Finance, has increased his government's proposed spending over last year by one-fifth, a record jump for B.C. which matches the increase in prosperous Saskatchewan. And Bennettland, like Thatcherland, will also enjoy tax cuts.

The tremendous increase in government expenditure this year on behalf of the people of British Columbia is by far the largest in any one year in our province's history," Mr. Bennett told me. This is not a politician's empire-building budget, the increase will predominantly be spent for the benefit of the people, on education, health and welfare.

TO SPARK PROSPERITY

Despite this huge increase in government spending, prosperity booms in B.C. that Mr. Bennett can cut taxes and yet balance his budget. He will remove the 5 per cent Social Services Tax from restaurants, meals, candy and soft drinks, newspapers and periodicals, and school supplies. He will also exempt from real-property tax all non-profit organizations working for the community.

The home-owner grant, comparable to Ross Thatcher's new kickback, was introduced in B.C. by Mr. Bennett nine years ago. This year it will be increased from $10 to $110 per home-owner.

The economists are advising Mr. Sharp to cut federal taxes too, to stimulate the economy and to help create jobs for our out-of-work and especially for this year's school leavers. Dr. Firestone has urged that income taxes should be reduced by at least as much as last year's election-bait cut. Mr. Sharp's federal spending estimates are only two per cent above last year; if those two western provinces can increase their spending by twenty per cent and yet cut taxes while planning a small surplus, surely Mr. Sharp can give federal taxpayers some tax relief too?

More Animals Than Students

TORONTO (CP)—Teacher Donald Thain, 25, runs an unusual class.

His 30 Grade 6 pupils are outnumbered in the classroom by 50 animals, birds and fish. There is also a collection of ore samples, stuffed birds, paintings and photographs, and a model of the solar system.

Mr. Thain began bringing the world into his classroom five years ago when he started teaching at Westford public school here.

The menagerie now includes 10 guinea pigs, two hamsters, a cardinal and a Java bird, three fish, about 30 mice, and a lizard named Iggy who eats only fruit cocktail.

On a table sits a glass-topped hive of 20,000 bees, which buzz in and out of a nearby window by way of a tube. The honey goes on crackers for the school's 900 boys and girls.

U.S. Put Spies In Nova Scotia

By BOB ROWMAN

One of the causes of the American Revolutionary War in 1775 is supposed to have been the Stamp Act, although it was put into effect 10 years before. The effect it had on Nova Scotia, which included New Brunswick, is not often mentioned, although it nearly caused a revolution in that part of Canada. The repercussions were so dangerous that the Stamp Act was repealed on March 18, 1766. In any case the cost of collecting was too high for the revenue it produced.

When the Stamp Act was passed in 1765, Canada's first newspaper, the Halifax Gazette, published critical editorials. The editor was fired, and another brought from Britain to try to undo the damage. He was too late. The people of Halifax burned an effigy of the Stamp Tax collector on Citadel Hill, and his home had to be protected by troops.

Earlier this month the story was told of how Britain had a spy circulating in the New England states before the War of 1812 to see if those states might secede from the Union if war were declared.

George Washington did much the same thing in Nova Scotia after 1765. He sent spies to report on the attitude of the people, and try to encourage them to revolt. They reported that Nova Scotia was ripe for rebellion.

Although there was a great deal of sympathy for the American point of view, Nova Scotians were in an exposed position. Apart from Newfoundland, they were the closest colony to Britain, and the logical place for troops to land. A group of men from Halifax, Chester, Liverpool, and Cumberland did try to organize a rebellion, but had to give up when the Americans failed to provide them with arms.

When the Stamp Act was repealed on March 18, 1766, the people of Nova Scotia were just as glad as the people of the colonies to the south.

WINNERS OF THE BUCHANAN TROPHY

The Kelowna Ladies' Curling Club brought their play-off Bonspiel to a very successful conclusion Wednesday evening with a friendship hour and banquet held in the clubrooms and attended by some 50 members. The president, Mrs. Peter Riel, presented the beautiful Buchanan Trophy filled with deep red roses to the winning Marg Lipsett rink during the banquet. The winners pictured above with their trophies were: Mrs. Riel, Mrs. Margaret Lipsett, Mrs. Pearl Wainman, second, back left, and Mrs. Margaret Lipsett, lead, peering over Mrs. Riel's shoulder. Runners up for the Buchanan Trophy were Helen August, skip, Vi Blanke, third, Peggy Freese, second, and Pat Nowicki, lead. Mrs. Sandberg, the president of the Lakeview Heights WI expressed the thanks of all the WI members from the various institutes to Mrs. Palmer for coming for the evening. During the business part of the meeting, a rummage sale was arranged for Saturday, April 2, to be held in the Centennial Hall, Kelowna. Receiving Awards For Fiction Preferable To Old Ladies' Home

NEW YORK (AP)—When her novel 'Ship of Fools' was at its best-selling peak several years ago, Katherine Anne Porter said: "It's all right to be a phenomenon at 72 and stand on your head in public, but my time is running out."

Today, a phenomenon at 75, she is receiving the latest in a long line of honors—the 17th annual U.S. National Book Award for fiction, for a collection of her stories.

Miss Porter, thrice married and thrice divorced, began writing in her teens but didn't publish until she was past 30. Ship of Fools was her only novel.

ADDICTS' BABIES BORN POISONED

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 300 babies born in the city last year suffered from narcotics addiction.

They fought to "kick" the habit in the first days of life. Some died. Others survived, as doctors used drugs or synthetic opiates to bring them through.

Dr. Alonzo Yerby, the city's commissioner of hospitals, discussed the situation Thursday, saying the newborn inherited the addiction through their mothers.

For the babies, he said, the suffering was greater than that of adults forced to take "cold turkey treatment"—complete withdrawal of narcotics.

The babies, he explained, are weaker.

Yerby, addressing a conference on narcotics in newborn babies, said the figure of 300 probably is conservative.

There is strong reason to believe that another 400 to 500 children were born to narcotic addicts in 1965 and that the rate of "neonatal narcotic addiction" is rising.

Narcotics addiction by the mother "affects the fetus and endangers the life of the infant," Yerby said.

In lay language, it means that these infants have been poisoned by the narcotics taken by their mothers and shortly after birth suffer all the tortures of withdrawal.

Vietnamese Premier Has Remarkable Wife

SAIGON (AP)—Imagine a premier with a wife who can cook, draw a gun in Wyatt Earp style, copilot a DC-3, speak three languages, and is only 26 years old.

The premier is Nguyen Cao Ky. 35 He is also vice-marshall and commander of the South Vietnamese Air Force.

His wife, Mai Ky, combines the cool grace of a duchess with the bubbly spirit of a pirate and her home is a draw bar at the long air base of Tan Son Nhut.

Inside the house with Mai is her seven-month-old daughter, Duyen Ky's two sons from his previous marriage are apt to be kicking a football around.

It is a primitive home though redecorated when the Ky married. Ky picked up the tab and his wife says "we are paying it back so much a month."

Ky cut his own wage by half when he took this job last July and also announced he would not be a candidate for the presidential election when elections are held in 1967.

A Vietnamese airline hostess for three years, Mai met the general—the way he likes to be addressed—at an officers' ball. "I just try to do everything my husband wants to do," Mai said. "I can't do all of it of course. But I do serve as copilot on the DC-3 when we fly and I do my best to share everything."

Editor 'Varsity' Deplores False Atmosphere

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP)—"I think it's a myth that professional women have any more problems than men," says Suzi Menkes.

Suzi is the first woman editor of Cambridge University's student newspaper, Varsity—a chair occupied for the last 34 years by males.

Suzi, 22, and pretty, attracted a lot of attention almost as soon as she became editor.

One of her first steps was to run a series of articles on sex on the Cambridge campus where, says Suzi, the university's attitude is "medieval and hypocritical."

"The main trouble is the incredibly false atmosphere at Cambridge," she said. "There are eight men for each woman here."

"The unattractive girl who enters Cambridge is made to feel worse when not asked out because she is constantly bombarded by the fact that there ought to be eight men after her. For many popular girls, their strings of date invitations become just status symbols."

"Cambridge university's medieval tradition of celibacy has made it impossible for two people to have a full relationship. There are spying landladies and always the fear of being expelled. Women must sign into their rooms each night at midnight."

NO MARRIAGE PLANS

Emphasizing that she had been speaking in general terms, Suzi added that she was not engaged and does not expect to become a housewife in the near future.

"I think people make a mistake when they get married in school," she said. "Cambridge has a false atmosphere. What will work here often does not work elsewhere."

As editor of Varsity, Suzi has 45 male students and 19 women on her staff. She regards her election as a matter of course.

Suzi has brought a number of new features to the 34-page weekly tabloid. Among them are a new section on scientific news, current analyses as to how current events pertain to campus life and columns by critics outside the campus.

Suzi plans to leave Varsity when her eighth-term as editor ends and then to "work feverishly" on her academic work before graduation in June.

After that it's off to find a job in London, which she has called home for the last 18 months since her mother moved there from Brighton. Suzi's father was killed in the Second World War.

In London she hopes to join a weekly or daily national newspaper and to write feature stories or fashion news. She spent a school term at a Paris fashion school in 1963.

Pope Relaxes Restrictions On Mixed-Religion Marriages

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul eased restrictions today on mixed marriages between Roman Catholics and others.

The Pope issued a long-awaited document bringing changes in one of the most sensitive areas affecting relations between Roman Catholicism and other faiths.

The document, entitled "Matrimony Sacramentum" (the Sacrament of Matrimony), came just four days before Anglican Archbishop Michael Ramsey of Canterbury, the spiritual head of the Church of England, makes a historic official visit to Pope Paul.

The treatment of the non-Catholic partner in a mixed marriage is known to be one of the matters the archbishop wants to discuss with the Pope. Dr. Ramsey has said he intends to talk about "practical matters which can hurt feelings and consciences."

The papal document was issued in Latin as an official instruction by the Vatican's Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, the former holy office.

One important change allows a non-Catholic minister to take part in the wedding of a Catholic and a non-Catholic before a Roman Catholic priest. The minister will be able to give the couple his blessing after they have exchanged their marriage vows.

Common prayer also will be allowed at the ceremony, with the priest, the minister and the newlyweds praying together.

LIFTS PENALTY

The instruction lifts the penalty of excommunication for a Catholic who marries a non-Catholic before anyone but a Roman Catholic priest. The cutting away of excommunication in such cases is retroactive, the document said, covering marriages already performed as well as such marriages in the future.

A third major provision will henceforth put the responsibility for baptizing and educating children on a Roman Catholic upon the Catholic spouse. Church law has been that the non-Catholic in a mixed marriage must make a written promise about the children.

The changes decreed today in the 1,500-word document said "a guarantee will be requested through an explicit promise by the Catholic spouse . . . The non-Catholic spouse should be invited to promise openly and sincerely that he will create no obstacle to the fulfilment of that duty, by his or her Catholic partner."

Sawmill, Penticton, won the Junior ILMA Trophy and a $25.00 prize for obtaining the highest marks of any student attending the course for the first year. His mark was 83.25 per cent.

A total of 241 students wrote the exams. Of these 85 gained A Diplomas and 149 gained B Diplomas, for a total of 234.

The lumber grading classes are sponsored by the Interior Lumber Manufacturers' Association at 20 centres throughout the Southern Interior. They are conducted under the auspices of the adult education program with the co-operation of the local school boards.

Abe Klassen was the instructor at the Kelowna class, under the supervision of R. N. Cunningham, ILMA Grading Inspector.

MANPOWER MOBILITY PROGRAM

Widening the Employment Horizon—for job seekers

The primary purpose of the Manpower Mobility Program is to provide financial assistance to Canadian workers who are unemployed and find it necessary to move to other areas in Canada of greater employment opportunity. The program is national in scope providing for loans or grants to workers and their families to cover the cost of moving and resettlement when it is clear that the move is in their own and the country's best interests. The Manpower Mobility Program is an important part of the Government of Canada's over-all manpower program which, within the framework of general economic policy, is designed to help maintain full employment and make the best possible use of the country's manpower resources.

Q. Who is eligible for a loan or grant?

- You are eligible—
- (a) if there is little or no chance of getting a suitable job in your home area,
- (b) if there is suitable employment available elsewhere for which you will be hired, and a shortage of qualified workers,
- (c) and if there is a good chance that the new job will result in your permanent resettlement.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE FOR A LOAN— if you are either unemployed or under notice of permanent layoff within 30 days from the day you apply for a loan. You are ELIGIBLE FOR A GRANT— if you have been unemployed for at least four of the six months preceding the date you apply for a grant; or

Have completed a provincially approved training course or a program of vocational rehabilitation and re-establishment during the previous three months; or

Are a former automobile or auto parts worker eligible for Transitional Assistance Benefits in respect of layoff.

Are a key skilled worker needed by an employer who received a development grant under the Area Development Incentive Act.

Q. How do I apply?

A. You apply at the nearest office of the National Employment Service. Give them the facts, and they will relate your experience and training to available job opportunities, first locally and then in other areas.

Q. How much of the cost of moving will a loan or grant cover?

A. For a worker with dependents, a loan or grant will pay for the actual cost of transportation of himself and his dependents, including meals and overnight accommodation. Also covered is the actual cost of moving most household and personal effects.

Q. And the costs of resettlement in the new area?

A. For those with dependents, resettlement allowances are $200 each for the worker and his wife and $100 for each additional dependent, up to a maximum of $1,000.

Q. What about a worker without dependents?

A. For a worker without dependents actual transportation costs are paid but loans and grants do not cover the movement of household and personal effects. There is a resettlement allowance of $100 for those receiving loans. Those receiving grants can also receive this resettlement allowance as a loan, not a grant.

Q. How is a loan repaid?

A. Normally, in not more than 30 monthly instalments beginning four months after the loan is made. Interest is 5 1/2% per annum.

Q. Is there anything else I should know?

A. Yes, if you have obtained a loan or grant and need a medical examination to obtain a suitable job, then an additional grant may be made to cover the cost. If you have moved somewhere to look for a job before this program came into effect, you may be eligible for a loan or grant. For more information—check your local N.E.S. office.

Indonesian Students Riot And Seize Education Chief

JAKARTA (Reuters) — Hundreds of Indonesian high school students today stormed the office of the minister of education, and seized the 55-year-old minister for "safe custody."

The demonstrating students took the minister away from his office telling spectators that they were holding him for safe-keeping.

It was not immediately known where the minister was taken. The students have been demanding Projono's resignation, accusing him of being a Communist.

A conflicting report said, however, that he had been taken into protective custody by police.

Hundreds of other students roamed the streets of the city on foot, ordering traffic out of their way by waving sticks, and singing songs insulting Foreign Minister Subandrio.

About 500 students visited the mines ministry buildings and shouted demands for the resignation of the minister, Armananto.

Three thousands more students massed in front of the basic education ministry buildings, which they occupied two weeks ago, and student speakers demanded the resignation of 24 ministers, headed by Subandrio, whom they alleged were Communist or pro-Communist.

Hundreds of other students invaded the buildings of the labor ministry and were given keys to the building by ministry officials.

Wednesday, university students who invaded Subandrio's home found pornographic pictures, important official documents and live ammunition, according to the army organ Berita Yudha (War News).

The paper said the students seized the items to hand them over to military authorities.

Today army troops and two armored cars were posted to guard Subandrio's other house nearby.

Meanwhile, the third deputy premier, Dr. Chairul Saleh, told reporters at the Merdeka Palace that President Sukarno had not yet received the students' demand for the resignation of 24 ministers including Saleh himself, which was forwarded to Parliament Wednesday.

Bottles Wash Up Odd Toxic Vapor

MINEHEAD, England (Reuters) — Bottles of bromine, a brown chemical giving off a toxic vapor similar to the poison gas used in the First World War, have been washed ashore near this southwest England resort area. Police are trying to find out where the bottles came from.

RELINQUISH POWERS

The demonstrations Saturday led to Sukarno's decision to entrust army chief, Gen. Suharto, with state powers.

Uncertainty reports said Subandrio was detained by army authorities today along with the information minister, Maj. Gen. Achmad, and the co-operatives minister, Dr. Achadi.

If the clubs turn out to be divided 3-3, draw the outstanding trump and claim the rest. If the clubs are divided 4-2, you may or may not make the contract, depending on how the adversary's cards are divided.

If the defender with the three trumps has four clubs also, you make the hand because your fourth club can be ruffed in dummy. If the defender with three trumps has only two clubs, you go down one, but then you would have gone down one even if you had drawn his last trump earlier.

Other good periods along these lines: Late October, late December and early January.

Along material lines, stars also promise a good year. You are currently in an excellent planetary cycle where career and financial matters are concerned—a cycle which will last until April 15. Do make use of every possible opportunity to advance your interests between now and then, and that, immediately consolidate gains since, except for possible "windfalls" during mid-July, the first week of October and the last week of December, you will not experience another real upturn along these lines until early January of next year, when you will enter another splendid three-month cycle on all fronts. Creative workers will have a generally fine year, with outstanding accomplishment—and recognition—promised in June, September and/or next January.

A child born on this day will be extremely versatile; could succeed notably as a writer, painter or teacher.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Saturday will mark the fifth day of a period which should have, and should continue, to give your spirits a real lift. Stars continue to smile on personal relationships, stimulating social activities and romance. Try to make some time for real relaxation, however, in preparation for a busy week ahead.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your chart presents some pleasant prospects for the year ahead—especially where personal relationships in general, and romance particularly, are concerned. If you are single, there is a possibility of new romance and/or marriage (even sudden) in early April, in late August, late October or in December, but sentimental interests for all (and this includes those already wed), should prove extremely happy during the next 12 months. Between June 1 and September 15, you can look forward to stimulating social activities and several opportunities to travel.

TRY AND STOP ME

By Bennett Corf

A COUPLE in Westchester decided suddenly one Sunday morning to put their house on the market, and not wishing to waste a moment, got busy instantly on a sign. They dragged the kiddies' blackboard out of the nursery, wrote in chalk "For Sale. Inquire within," and planted it on the front lawn.

They got action almost at once. The doorbell rang. They rushed to answer. Standing the doorway was a very small boy. "How much," he demanded, "do you want for the blackboard?"

A smart-alecky New Yorker, guest for the night at a Vermont roadside motel, needed the proprietor by remarking, "I'd say, Pop, by the looks of things that nothing's happened in these parts since the American Revolution." "That shows what you know, Mister," replied the unperturbed Vermont. "Just two years ago last Tuesday we had an eclipse of the moon."

An old San Franciscan, who had driven a Wells Fargo Stage coach for years in his youth, lay dying, and his heartbroken granddaughter leaned forward to hear his last words. With a flicker of a smile, the gallant old fellow whispered, "It's a down grade, honey, and I can't reach the brake."

Long-Standing Strategy Didn't Pay Any Dividends

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The old manoeuvre of lifting a netminder in the last minute of play to force a tiebackfire on Boston Bruins Thursday night in the only scheduled National Hockey League game.

The Bruins pulled netminder Ed Johnston with less than a minute remaining and attempted to put another forward on the ice despite the fact they had a man in the penalty box.

The move backfired as they were caught without a netminder when Alex Delvecchio scored his second goal of the night with 17 seconds remaining to give Detroit Red Wings a 4-3 victory.

Delvecchio's goals were his 27th and 28th of the season. Andy Bathgate with his 14th of the year and Dean Prentice, a Boston castoff, with his 11th of the year completed Detroit's scoring.

ALEX DELVECCHIO ... 2 goals pace Wings

Bathgate gave Detroit a 1-0 lead at 8:30 of the opening period when he beat Johnston from close in after taking a quick pass from Norm Ullman.

Less than a minute later, Don Avery of the Bruins was penalized for hooking and was joined in the penalty box 30 seconds later by team-mate Bob Wojtowich.

The Red Wings went two goals ahead while holding the two-man advantage as Delvecchio fired a shot from the left point which zipped through Johnston's pads.

Langlois notched his pair of goals after Prentice scored Maple Leafs in Toronto.

Three Assists Vault Howe Into Second In NHL Scoring

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Gordie Howe, Detroit Red Wings right winger playing in his 20th National Hockey League season, had three assists against Boston Bruins Thursday to climb into a second-place tie in the individual scoring race.

Howe's three assists moved him up into second place with Stan Mikita of Chicago Black Hawks. Both have 40 points.

Howe, scoring champion the last two years, leads the league in assists with 44, one more than Howe.

Bobby Hull of Chicago continues to lead the scoring race with 43 points, including a record 53 goals. Hull has seven more points to break the record of most points in a season.

Dodgers Advice Start Worrying

By MURRAY CHASS Associated Press Sports Writer

Buzzie Bavasi, general manager of the holdout-plagued Los Angeles Dodgers, lost his left and right arms Thursday, at least for the start of the season, when Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale signed contracts with Paramount Pictures.

"I guess that settles it," Bavasi said upon hearing that Koufax and Drysdale will make Warning Shot with David Jansen for two weeks starting April 4.

The players' lawyer, William Hayes, said there are no escape clauses in the contracts, which means the pair will miss the start of the season April 12. Drysdale and Koufax are three-week holdouts who originally sought three-year contracts calling for $500,000 each. They said Wednesday they had made new proposals but declined to reveal details.

MAY TOUR JAPAN

Hayes, meanwhile, said the holdouts, who won 49 games between them last year, have been offered a 10-week tour of Japan starting in mid-June. It would pay in six figures plus a percentage of the gate at exhibitions and clinics.

Scouting of exhibitions, the Dodgers could use a clinic themselves on hitting. The winless world champions broke a 19-inning scoreless string but still lost their fifth straight, a 4-3 decision to St. Louis Cardinals.

Jim Lefebvre's three-run homer in the ninth inning escaped the string, but reliever Dennis Aust ended the game by getting pinch-hitter Tommy Davis to hit into a double play.

Three hurlers put together the best pitched game of the day for Atlanta Braves, combining for a one-hit, 2-0 shutout over the Sox hitting the rest of the way.

TIGERS BLANK REDS

Denny McLain and Bill Monbouquette teamed up for a three-hitter in Detroit Tigers' 1-0 triumph over Cincinnati Reds.

Jim Northrup tripled in the sixth and scored on Don Demeter's single.

San Francisco Giants remained the only unbeaten team, edging California Angels 11-1 behind a 20-hit attack. Rookie catcher Bob Barlow lashed a double, a triple and two singles.

Minnesota Twins finally won a game after seven losses. The American League champion Twins downed New York Yankees 5-1 with Harmon Killebrew and Don Mincher hitting successive homers in the second inning.

Boog Powell cracked two homers and Frank Robinson and Sam Bowens one each as Baltimore Orioles thumped Washington Senators 7-2. Tom Reynolds homered in the ninth, lifting Kansas City Athletics past Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2. Rusty Staub belted a three-run homer in Houston Astros' 7-2 victory over Boston Red Sox.

Roberto Pena rapped six hits as Chicago Cubs trimmed Cleveland Indians 8-6 and Philadelphia Phillies battled New York Mets to a 15-inning, 3-3 deadlock.

FROM ITS MOUNTAIN headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., the North American Air Defence Command keeps the North American continent under surveillance. At Great Bear, Alaska, Thule, Greenland and Fylingdales Moor in England, the Ballistic Missile Early Warning System (BMEWS) can warn of rockets coming over the pole. Other radar systems and patrol planes off the coast track every aircraft approaching the continent — CP Newsday.

Space Age Alters NORAD And Canada's Future Role

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (CP) — The space age has brought a new concept of air defence of North America in since the anti-satellite program which Canada is expected to state at least for some years to come.

Canada's future role will be shaped at the conference table and undoubtedly will be influenced by results of a multi-million-dollar United States program to defend against satellites and land- and sea-launched missiles.

Senior Canadian officers at headquarters here of the North American Air Defence Command see a continuing role for Canada.

Air Marshal C. R. (Larry) Dunlap, NORAD's deputy commander-in-chief, discussed Canada's position when Canadian newspapermen visited Colorado Springs for a tour of NORAD's new-located underground command operations centre deep inside 9,500-foot Cheyenne Mountain.

Air Marshal Dunlap, 58-year-old former chief of staff of the RCAF, noted that preliminary study will begin soon or revision of the NORAD agreement under which Canada and the United States share in defence of North America. The 10-year agreement expires in May, 1968.

REVIEWS PROGRAM

Meanwhile, the U.S. is reviewing its anti-satellite defence program, and the fact that Canada has not been called into these consultations has raised the question whether the U.S. may go it alone and whether the program may be placed under the Continental Air Defence Command (CONAD)—the U.S. portion of NORAD.

Satellite war is not something likely in the near future but the ability to place tremendous pay-

I'm Still Chief Claims Sukarno

SINGAPORE (AP) — President Sukarno in a statement read for him, declared today he still is president of Indonesia and he simply had delegated certain powers to Lt. Gen. Suharto, the new strongest army chief of staff.

In another statement broadcast by Jakarta radio, Suharto agreed, saying he had been ordered to normalize the situation in Indonesia after the pro-Communist coup attempt of Oct. 1 failed.

Diplomatic quarters in Singapore recalled, however, that Suharto's first act in taking over Saturday was to outlaw the Indonesian Communist Party—any order, it was felt here, Sukarno was unlikely to have issued.

A statement read for Sukarno over the radio by Third Deputy Premier Charul Sahid said there were people who wanted to topple the president and were trying to force their wishes on him by ultimatum. This sounded as though Sukarno was referring to the army.

More French Immigrants To Be Sought By Canada

LONDON (CP) — Canada intends to seek greater co-operation from the French government to encourage a greater flow of French emigration to Canada. R. Byrnes Curry, assistant deputy immigration minister, said today.

The number of immigrants from the United Kingdom increased to an eight-year high of about 40,000 last year, from some 30,000 in 1964. Those from France rose only to 5,300 from 4,500.

Curry and Tom Kent, deputy immigration minister, explained at a press conference that Canada is putting on a big drive to get more immigrants this year. Curry estimated the overall total may rise to some 175,000 from 145,000 last year. The total from Britain may increase to about 50,000.

The French government has in the past indicated opposition to advertisements urging residents to emigrate. Canada tried to get around this by placing more stories in French newspapers, emphasizing the bright side of Canadian activity. Curry said more of these "planted" stories are being accepted by the French provincial press.

This was "a testing time" in which Canada intended to find out how far it can go to encourage greater French emigration to Canada, Curry said. Kent and Curry are here for a two-day meeting with Canadian immigration officials in Britain to co-ordinate recruiting efforts with Canada's manpower needs. Kent indicated that under the new manpower department there no longer will be any policy of turning the immigration tap on and off in accordance with short-term changes in the Canadian economy. Experience had shown that once the tap is turned off, there is a long lag before it can be turned on.
